The Early Television Foundation is dedicated to the preservation of the technology from the early days of television. Our website's mission is to preserve and make available to the public the history of early television, from the mechanical systems of the 1920s through the introduction of color television in the 1950s.

Please visit earlytelevision.org and explore this web site which is rich in photographs, schematics, TV details of construction and materials, manufacturing of picture tubes, ideas for contributing vintage television studio and transmitter equipment to the museum from your station, and memories. Also consider volunteering some time, and yes even money, to help the museum to survive and prosper. It is certainly centered on the very industry from which we make a living and is a part of our heritage.

The Early Television Museum and Foundation depends on donations to fund their operations. Please consider making a tax-deductible contribution to the Early Television Foundation.
